NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Philippine Commission. The Philippine Commission appointed by President McKinger, and of which Judge | Ficksburg. TART is President, is now in Hongkong on: its way to Manila. With all due respect to the Members of the body, for whose attainments we entertain the greatest possible respect, we really do not see that they will be able to accomplish any more than their predecessors. The former Commission spent a considerable time in the Philippines, made various enquiries here and there, cost [706b] the United States Government a considerable sum in travelling expenses, salaries, etc., and then returned to the United States and published a most lengthy and exhaustive report upon their labours. With the publication of the report the work done by the Commission ceased, for it did not advance the cause of either the Americans or the Filipinos one jota and nobody benefitted

We trust that Judge TALL's Commission will proceed upon different lines. He and his colleagues are to decide upon the best-of Commons that the new agreement form of government for the Philippines, and to put that government on a firm basis. Let them do so by all means, but let them go about matters in a sensible manner and look at both sides of the question. To attain this end we contend that it will be necessary to grant'a cessation of hostilities for a sufficiently long period to allow of the diliping leaders coming to consult with the Members | any intention of Russia to erect of the Commission and lay their views before them, and it will be also necessary to guarantee them safe conduct to and from the American lines.

The Americans say that they do not want 1707b to govern the Philippines for their own benefit. The possession of the islands has been more or less forced upon them by circumstances and their one and only object is to destablish a stable form of government which ishall be acceptable to natives and Americans alike. So far, however, the American Authorlities have only shown their benevolent intentions by words and not by deeds. They have, from the very beginning, absolutely ignored the Filipinos, with the exception of that very small minority who were too unpatriotic to . [705b] care who was at the head of affairs and who consequently threw in their let; with the Americans. They have tried to deceive themselves and the people of the United present opposition to American rule was not sale. sine action of the whole population, but of a very small section who were working for their own ends. Events speak for themselves, however, and the most sanguine wellwisher of the United States cannot help but admit that though the whole power of the Republic has been brought to bear upon the iso-called insurrection, yet it has not wanted in intensity, but has rather gathered force with time, despite the fact that the resources of the people have been strained to the uttermost and they have had to bear all the horrors of war when submission would have Therefore, say we, if the present Commission is to establish a stable government; which will not cost the United States millions of dollars and hundreds of lives, it must take Two Kwangs. the buil by the horns and obtain the views of the Filipino leaders. Not the few who have for private reasons handed in their allegiance and who certain Americans are so fond of parading as the flower of the | 803 emigrants on board, and left next day. Filipino stock, but the true leaders whose dogged resistance to both Spanish and American control has earned for them the love and respect of their fellow countrymen and who, in spite of immense hardships, have so far successfully defied the power of the United States. If the present Commission can but come to talk matters over with these men and by conceding a poinhere and there arrive at a settlement act ceptable to them, then we have no hesitation in saying that all opposition to American control will be at an end.

But the Commission must not approach the Filipinos with the idea that it has nothing but a set of savages to deal with to whom it can lay down the law and teach what it considers to be best for the Filipinos. • The Commission will find that it has to deal with a body of highly educated gentlemen whose attainments are fully equalto those of the various Members of the one half of the trouble in the Philippines has been occasioned by high-handed action and misunderstanding. Hustling will not cans must learn to appreciate if they ever wish to shine as a Colonial Power.

THE Chih Pao gives a story to the effect that an attempt was recently made to poison the Heir Apparent by means of a cup of tea brought to him by a cunuch when he was at his studies, "in the name of the Empress." THE CRUSADE AGAINST BROTHELS.

The hearing of a further batch of summonses against brothel keepers was amongst the cases at the Magistracy this morning, Mr. Bowley, Crown Solicitor, appearing for the Prosecution, and Mr. J. J. Frankis, Q.C., for the defence.

Mr. Bowley, in stating his case, reviewed and the action of the police for the past few months. and pressed His Worship for an order to make occupiers of these houses quit within 24 hours. Mr. Francis maintained a line of defence similar to that in the cases heard last Wednesday. He stigmatised the action of Inspector Lee as grossly-illegal. This bullying and threatening towards these women had been totally unjustified, and he contended that Inspector Lee on every visit he made to these houses, as he had been doing, was rendering himself liable to prosecution. Mr. Bowley protested against his friend's unjust attack on Inspector Lee, who, he said, had simply done his duty as ordered by the Government.

His Worship gave an order for the defendants to vacate their houses by the 1st July, and the detendants, some thirty in number, were marshalled into the court and duly in-

THE LINER "HAMBURG" ON VIEW.

Yesterday afternoon a large number of Hongkong residents proceeded to Kowloon to look over the new Hamburg-America liner Hamburg, on the invitation of Captain Luhneschloss, The visitors were politely received at the gangway and were esconted over the vessel, the spar deck. The Hamburg is a magnificent vessel of 10,599 tons gross, and was launched pany's works at Stettin. She is 520 feet in length, has a beam of 60 feet and draws 30 feet of water. Her twin screw quadruple engines drive her at seventeen knots, and she is said to be a capital sea boat. It is in her interior arrangements that the Hainburg surprises one, however. Her saloon, music and smoking rooms are upholstered in the most lavish style and are palatial in their dimensions. Electric fans running in every cabin keep the temperature down and ensure good ventilation, which is a matter which might well receive the attention of our English steamship companies. Just imagine what a boon an electric fan mustbe in one's cabin in the Red Sea. The firstclass cabins are very large and are most comfortably and tastefully furnished. Instead of the old-fashioned basins, yacht-fittings are supplied, which shut up when not in use and alleged secret understanding between Russia are transformed at will into a handy writing and China has made the former Power partable. The ladies too, have not been forgotten, for each cabin possesses a wardrobe in which dresses can be living up, instead of being tumbled into trunks, where they are ruined by creases. The first class cabins accommodate 230 passengers, and are all situated on the upper deck. Under the poop are the second and smoking rooms, all claborately furnished, been seen doing duty as usual.

and indeed much superior to the first class accommodation on many mail steamers which we could name. In fact, bar the cabins being somewhat smaller and situated aft instead of amidships, we would as soon travel second as first class by this ocean hotel. As regards boats and safety appliances, the Hanburg is, thoroughly up to date, and her great size and large beam should make her a most comfortable ship to travel by. She is certainly the finest vessel of her class that we have ever seen in Hongkong. She left for Europe at noon to-day with a large number of passengers whom, we certainly envy.

A SMALL DATTLE.

On Sunday, the 5th, at Tsao Miao-tz carly in the day, information was given that an attack by five thousand men was intended during the day. Preparations were made accordingly. Captain Watson's force consisted of Col. Sergt. Purdon and about thirty men. When the crowd, which numbered perhaps two thousand, approached within a thousand yards, Captain Watson sent a message to say that if they continued to advance he would fire. At seven bundred yards he gave the command and firing by sections continued for some time. Ten or so were killed, and ultimately the crowd dispersed. The natives had firearms and are said to have fired first, but probably out of range. Col. Bower was immediately reinforced by Chinese soldiers and twenty five marines, as was Captain Watson, with soldiers only. The governor of the province telegraphed requesting Col. Dorward to effect the release of the Chinese officials. For this purpose Major Bruce, with seventy-five marines, went out to the Tsan Miao-tz camp. Holding the marines in reserve, Major Bruce went on to Taot'ou Taotai, but found that gentleman most unwillgaolers, who had fled. His many excuses were of no avail, and at last he was requested to be ready by ten the next morning. At the appointed hour Major Bruce re-appeared on the scene, and as he and his men descended the hill on one side of the valley, Colonel Wang with a regiment of Chinese troops descended the hil on the other side. The Chinese Compenioners met the British troops and were at once corte to Colonel Bower's camp, ten miles away. The Chinese officers and men were most friendly, and after passing compliments separated in good will. The regiment of Chinese had been sent from the camps in the direction of Chefoo to effect the release of the imprisoned officials, who have since returned to Weihaiwei.

PATROLLING THE BOUNDARY. Captain Lee, R.E., completed the work to day, and the British Commissioners are ex pected back to-morrow. The Chinese Regi ment is now under canvas in four camps, and will probably remain out for a month, patrolling the whole length of the boundary daily. SEDITIOUS LETTERS.

There can be little, doubt that persistent efforts were made to arouse the country people to drive the British back to Weihai. Letters were received in every village within the boundary, and in many without, calling for armed help. Notice was sent to the Chinese soldiers that unless they deserted by a given time their houses would be destroyed and their friends punished, besides which their fathers and brothers would join in the attack and perhaps be shot by their brothers and sons. Anyone connected with the foreigners would either be drowned or buried alive. The letters were unsigned, but it is known they emanated from Taot'ou, where the Chinese officials were prisoners, and the Wenteng magistrate's name is freely mentioned in connection with them. It is not easy to sift the rumours.. The Wenteng magistrate is spoken of as a just and popular officer. He has been 'dismissed, it is stated, and his successor appointed. Another theory is that the Taotal himself was responsible for the inflanmatory letters, and this is at least as likely as the other. But however that may be, events recounted in earlier letters, make the Taotai's responsibility for the mischief abundantly evident. He wished to curry favour with the people and with his superiors. He overreached him? self, little knowing what a fire he had kindled. No doubt the Chinese counted on the British facility for backing down in the face of threatened trouble. Even when they found they had to deal locally with determined men, they probably hoped the Legation at Peking would act as so often before. They did not understand that not with the Legation in Peking but with the War office in London they had to deal The instructions of the Government to the Administrator here, as announced in your columns, will be hailed with delight by every Nos. 607 and 608 are insured in the Hamburg British resident in China, if they mark the and Salamander offices. OFFICIAL RECOGNITION NEEDED. One other matter of importance is that the British authorities should now insist that the Chinese magistrates should now publicly and officially recognise the transfer of territory. Until that is done they can always plead superior force to account for the foreigners' presence. And this official recognition can best be made by the handing over of the tax account books dealing with the land concerned. No other plan will be satisfactory, and until these books are obtained trouble will only follow trouble. There will not be any more fighting, but there is no ground to hope that the future holds no difficulties in store for the Government. -N. C. D. News Cor.

TERRIBLE MASSACRE AT PAO-TING-FU.

News is to hand this week of another fierce attack on Catholic converts in the vicinity of Pao-ting-fu, at a village called Kan-lo, 30 li from Tsing Hsien, and also at another place some to li from Tang-shu. No authentic details are as yet to hand, but there seems no room for doubt that at least sixty Christians have been killed. Some versions state that the Christians were holding service, when the chapel was attacked by Boxers, the doors fastened, and the building fired. This would easily account for the great loss of life. Others say that though a chapel was burnt, there was no one inside it. That a lamentable loss of life has in some way occurred at the hands of the Boxers is however quite certain, and we are glad to hear that the French Admiral is expected here immediately. We hope that the French Government will be roused to take very definité action in this matter, now, and not pass it over. News is also to hand that the rioters are keeping things moving in Shantung. FIRE AT SHANGHAI.

SHANGHAI, 24th May. A destructive fire occurred yesterday morning in Tiendong Road, resulting in the destruction by fire of one double house and serious damage to others by fire and water. The alarm was sounded at about 3.50 and the brigade turned out promptly with full equipment. The fire was found to have broken out in a double house. Nos. 607 and 608, on the upper floor, this being the place destroyed; No. 606 was badly damaged by fire and water and Nos. 609 and 610 also suffered severely. The work of the firemen was first-rate and, thanks to their efforts, what might have been a very much more serious loss was averted. The premises were for the greater part occupied as general stores, but, as the inmates have all cleared out, the police have difficulty in obtaining further particulars. Nos. 609 and 610 are insured for $1,000 in the North British Office and Tls. 800 in the Salamander office.

JUNG LU'S HEALTH.

A telegram received by the Shanghai mandarins on 22nd inst. from Peking, states that the Grand Secretary, and Generalissimo, Jung Lu, who had been seriously ill of late, is now out of danger. There were fears at first that Jung Lu had been made the victim of the friends of the Empress Dowager's lately deceased favourite eunuch, whom they accuse Jung Lu of having poisoned; but this charge, according to the telegram, was groundless.

THE PETROLEUM INDUSTRY IN NETHERLANDS INDIA.

"The Royal Laugkat Petroleum Company, which latterly had a run of ill-luck owing to its oil-wells failing, is now foring better. At Telaga Said, as old concession, matters begin to mend At Perlok, where it works a new concession, an extensive jetroleum reservoir has been struck. A specting well has been reached at Balbalan fafter two years' fruitless operations. The well lies at a depth of two thousand feet, and is close to a refinery. These finds show that oil abounds in the Company's concessions. The only trouble is to know the exact spots where to reach them. The well at Balbalan is reckoned upon to yield 5,000 barrels a day. A new well at Telaga Said yields by pumping, about 1.50 (barrels a day.)

The Musica Emm Company, which works petroleum wells in Palembang, has just begun to ship refined oil. Refining operations had shegun long ago. The delay in shipment is ascribed to hindrances met with by the "Skell? Company, which had contracted to taka dver, the Muara Enim Company's oil The "Shell" Company could not get its tank steamers in readiness earlier. It had, moreover, to wait for its oil tanks in Singapore to become ready. Shipment operations at Muara Enim will now proceed regularly.

The "Shell" Company has come to terms with another oil-venture-the Java Petroleum Company. This company which operates in mid Java has secured the co-operation of the "Shell" Company in dealing with the raw oil, and in selling both the refined product and the netroleum refuse. A British syndicate proposes to bore at suitable places in that island, and to deliver to the Java Petroleum Company the raw off from these borings in case of success. The Java Petroleum Company is steadily increasing its out-put of oil, and exploring its concession by boring at many spots. The raw oil it brings to market is said to be of excellent quality, and to yield lighting oil to the extent of 771 per cent. The Company requires additional capital, and has decided to claimed at the Post Office :raise the money by issuing debentures.-

SINGAPORE BOTANIC GARDENS.

Straits Times Cor.

The Singapore Botanic Gardens report for 1899 notes considerable additions to the collections, and such increasing security, that the few thefts that took place were of aspetty. nature. The Para rubber trees yielded heavy crops of seeds which were freely distributed. The cultivation of gutta percha from cuttings was successfully experimented with. The outlay on the Gaidens was kept within the revenue.

BOERS FOR CEYLON.

The Times of Cevion says that the influx of Buer prisoners to Cevion may now be looked upon as certain. The Governor of Ceylon has taken steps to settle upon the required locality, at Divotawala, and tenders for iron buildings have been placed in every likely quarter in Ceylon, and the requirements are so large that the supply of material is well nigh exhausted. The work of putting up the accommodation for the housing of the prisoners is to be carried out by as many contractors as possible. It is said that all the prisoners now at Simons Town, some 3,000 men, are to be sent on to Ceylon. Accommodation is to be provided for 6,000 men; upwards of 50 large houses, each over 100 feet in length, covered with iron-roofing, have to be erected for the prisoners alone. fact, a regular town has to be put up, and that, too, in as short a space of time as possible.

WANTED TO BE KILLED.

About 10.30 last night, says a recent issue of the Straits Times, a Chinaman went to Beach Road Police Station with a parang in one hand and a knife in the other and asked the constable on duty to cut his (the Chinaman's) throat. He told the policeman that he had attempted to commit suicide several times, but had not been able to do so. The Chinaman had a nasty cut on his throat and was taken in charge. He was greatly indignant because the cons-table did not comply with his wish.

FALLEN AMONG SAVAGES.

The Naval Commanding Officer in Netherlands India doubts whether the officer and two Cumming, C. P. engineers of the steamer General Pel, who had Chanelhuri, M. N. been made captive by savages in Dutch New Coy, C. S. Guinea, have been murdered by them as had Chung War been reported. A Dutch man-of-war visited Collie, Mrs. J. A. the coast frequented by these savages and cap- Cohen, G. tured several of them, who confessed to killing Cohen, U. the captives These men are now at Amboyna Clark, A. in prison. The Resident of Ternate has ad. Chebry, J. vised the Government not to punish them as Davis, J. murderers. The Naval Commanding Officer Dunan, W. points out that there is no certainty about the Denny, H. S. alleged murders, and that a fresh expedition Dobberke, H. should be despatched to New Guinea to en Drummond Quiro thoroughly into the matter. Dehn, Miss L.

OF RIFLE CLUBS.

Lord Salisbury, speaking at the annual dinner of the Printrose League, on 8th May, eulogised the careful neutrality of all the Powers. Nevertheless, as regards the future, he said, we must rely solely on our own strength, as the military efficacy of great nations was increasing daily. He questioned the wisdom of trusting to our Navy alone; and, as conscription was unacceptable, he urged the creation of Rifle Clubs everywhere. The responsibility rested with the people to ensure the security of the country by placing it in the position of an armed nation.

ANOTHER TALE OF A TIGER.

A strange story of a tiger comes from mid | Eldridge, F. H. Java, says a Straits Times correspondent, the Ellis, Dr. H. incident happening only the other day. A Findlay, Rev. W. Javanese and his family were just retiring to Fistord, E. rest after the evening meal, when a tiger walked | Fleischer, M. into their hut through the open door. It went in, sat near the sleeping place, and looked very tired. The Javanese, on recovering his presence of mind, spoke to the tiger from the sleeping place, thanking it for the visit, and asking it to leave by the still open door. The tiger took no notice of this, upon which the Fischler, C. Javanese and his family saw that there was Forbs, A. R. nothing else to do'but to fall asleep. One of Fox, H. H. his neighbours, however, seeing the door open | Ford, A. and a light burning at a late hour, looked in Fieldmerc, Company out of curiosity. He saw the whole family fast | Feing, Mrs. C. asleep, watched as it were by a tiger. He Fulton hastened to an estate manager close by and Gambell, E. R. reported the matter. The manager sent a Greves, J. C. trustworthy person to the spot with a loaded | Garza musket, to deliver the family from the tiger. Gibson, W. S. This man on seeing how matters stood, climbed | George, G. F. S. to the roof of the but, made a hole in the | Gonzales, S. J. thatch, stuck the barrel of the musket through { Gillard, H. the opening, took aim, and fired. The tiger, Gatgalds. SIR CHARLES WARREN AN ACROBAT ON THE SLY.

An interesting story is told-regarding Sir Charles Werren's explorations in Jerusalem, when he was a captain of the Engineers. The young captain had exhausted all the funds placed at his disposed by the committee in London, and had asked for more. While waiting for a remittance he had spent some i hundreds of his own money, such was his enthusiasm in the work on which he was engaged. At last all his available money was expended, and Warren had written to say that if he was not provided with more, he must stop work and come home. A substantial remittance was already on the way however, and it reached him almost immediately. His anxiety was over, and he went for a walk outside the walls, emoying the feeling of relief from his mental strain. As he strode along the sense of exultation became so strong that thinking he was alone, he evinced his delight by turning a somersault. As he came to his feet again, he saw, to his horror, that a number of grave looking Moslems, who were scated in the shadow of a wall close by, were watching him with wide-open eyes. At first the officer thought that his authority with the Arabs would begone, when the tale of his undignified conduct was told, but he heard before long that a story was going round to the effect that the English officer had gone outside the walls to perform a strange religious ceremony, and that the Arabs were puzzled as to the precise meaning and object of it, as to which there. were several rival theories.

The pianos sold by us, besides yielding daily musical dividends, hold the money invested much safer than ordinary instruments, for the construction is honest and economical through-
